

Justice in Action -- Advocate for Children in Immigration Cases

Our Justice in Action Projects are pro bono efforts to continue the thinking and dialogue from the Children's Rights Summit. Baker McKenzie will partner with in-house attorneys looking to engage in any Justice in Action projects.

What? Immigration clients across the US are in need of attorneys for proceedings at all levels.

Why? Represented individuals have a far better chance of success at immigration proceedings. Tahirih Justice Center works to provide free immigration services to women and children. Working with pro bono attorneys to take on immigration cases expands the community impact.

How? Tahirih offers routine training and mentoring for attorneys. Volunteer to take a case and support a young person in need of immigration representation.

Reach out to find ways to get involved in meaningful immigration representation work -- reach out to learn more at probono@bakermckenzie.com!

