

Justice in Action -- Help Trafficking Victims

Our Justice in Action Projects are pro bono efforts to continue the thinking and dialogue from the Children's Rights Summit. Baker McKenzie will partner with in-house attorneys looking to engage in any Justice in Action projects.

What? Representation of human trafficking victims in various settings – vacating criminal records, immigration, advocacy with law enforcement, orders for protection.

How? Too often victims in trafficking end up getting re-traumatized in the system that is trying to protect them from those who exploited them in the first place. This includes girls and women trafficked domestically and international.

How? Baker McKenzie (Palo Alto) is hosting a training in January 2019 for those who want to learn how to do this work and different ways they can offer direct representation to victims.

To register for this training or to learn more about trafficking case opportunities -- reach out at probono@bakermckenzie.com!

JUSTICE AT LAST